

GIS USERS OF NORTHERN OHIO

The GIS USERS OF NORTHERN OHIO (GUONO) is an informal group that promotes geographic data sharing, encourages data standardization, and provides a network for the exchange of technical information between all GIS users. Our goals include developing a forum for open discussion of GIS issues and encouraging personal communication between GIS users of all skill levels in the public, private, non-profit and educational sectors.

May 21st, 2010 from 1:30 to 3:00 at the Cleveland Metroparks' Canalway Center for a presentation on:

Four common patterns of Environmental Systems Research Institute (ESRI) GIS software deployment

Anna Sokol from Environmental Systems Research Institute's Columbus office will present on four common patterns for GIS deployment in organizations, and ways that ESRI solutions fit into this paradigm. The four patterns are data/asset management, planning & analysis, field mobility, and operational awareness. She will also cover ESRI resources available via the online community and coming with the new release of ArcGIS 10 that will help organizations expand GIS into these four areas of their enterprise.
